

Girls' Night In

Margaret Lilly's closet parties offer a new twist on cocktail affairs.

When personal stylist Margaret Lilly opens a closet, she likes to see an organized selection of chic, contemporary clothes. Her clients get bonus points for vintage pieces and jewelry—perfect for making a statement on a budget. During Lilly's in-home cocktail events, hosts can gather friends and serve drinks and hors d'oeuvres as she shows the group how to do a basic closet edit. All those worn heels, ratty shorts and flannel? She'll help you part ways so your best pieces can shine—both in the closet and in the everyday ensembles she shows you how to pull off. Each guest gets an outfit makeover, and then everyone gets the chance to recycle a cast-off item from their friends' closets. We give Lilly bonus points for keeping the party's tab to a slim $25 per person. Visit LillysClosetOnline.com for more information. —Christie Findlay
